DETAILED ACTION

Summary

On August 24, 2006, an Office Action was disseminated in error. The Examiner submits the following action to correct the error.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-2, 5-6, 8-11, and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Withrow (6,116,505).

Withrow a method and corresponding system for using a card to complete a form comprising completing a form presented to a user in a computer application program, the form requesting information about the user, identifying a form presented to a user in a computer application program, the form requesting information about the user, receiving a magnetic stripe card comprising card information, generating a unique identifier based on the card information, associating the unique identifier with the user, obtaining user information based on the identifier, matching elements of user information with elements of information about the user requested in the form, and completing the form request for information with the matching elements of user information (col.6, lines 30-42; col.14, line 59 to col.15, line 20; and col.22, lines 33-65); the steps are performed in response to a single user action, the single user action comprising directing a magnetic stripe card through a magnetic stripe reader (col.6, lines 30-42; col.14, line 59 to col.15, line 20; and col.22, lines 33-65); the unique identifier is generated by providing the card information as input to a one-way function (col.6, lines 30-42; col.14, line 59 to col.15, line 20; and col.22, lines 33-65); the unique identifier is generated by combining elements of card information, and providing the combined card information as input to a one-way function (col.6, lines 30-42; col.14, line 59 to col.15, line 20; and col.22, lines 33-65); the user information is obtained from a local database (col.6, lines 30-42; col.14, line 59 to col.15, line 20; and col.22, lines 33-65); completing the request for information with at least one element of card information and with matching elements of user information (col.6, lines 30-42; col.14, line 59 to col.15, line 20; and col.22, lines 33-65); and elements of user information are matched with elements of information about the user requested in the form by matching form field names with elements of user information (col.6, lines 30-42; col.14, line 59 to col.15, line 20; and col.22, lines 33-65).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3-4, 7, 12, and 14-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Withrow in view of Martino (5,987,103).

Withrow discloses the invention substantially as claimed; however, Withrow does not disclose the magnetic stripe card is received by an RFID token reader; the user information is at least a portion of a user profile obtained from a server accessible via the internet; identifying a form in a web page downloaded from a merchant web server presented to a user in a web browser, associating by an information server separate from the merchant web server the unique identifier with the user, obtaining by the merchant web server directly from the information server user information based on the identifier, and completing by the merchant web server the form request by matching elements of user information with the requested information; or the form being identified by parsing the HTML code or elements of user information are matched with elements of information about the user requested in the form by using a field mapping script. Martino discloses a method and corresponding system for transaction entry comprising the magnetic stripe card is received by an RFID token reader (col.1, line 64 to col.2, line 20); the user information is at least a portion of a user profile obtained from a server accessible via the internet (col.9, lines 15-35); identifying a form in a web page downloaded from a merchant web server presented to a user in a web browser, associating by an information server separate from the merchant web server the unique identifier with the user, obtaining by the merchant web server directly from the information server user information based on the identifier, and completing by the merchant web server the form request by matching elements of user information with the requested information (col.9, lines 15-35); and the form being identified by parsing the HTML code or elements of user information are matched with elements of information about the user requested in the form by using a field mapping script (col.9, lines 15-35). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the magnetic stripe card is received by an RFID token reader; the user information is at least a portion of a user profile obtained from a server accessible via the internet; identifying a form in a web page downloaded from a merchant web server presented to a user in a web browser, associating by an information server separate from the merchant web server the unique identifier with the user, obtaining by the merchant web server directly from the information server user information based on the identifier, and completing by the merchant web server the form request by matching elements of user information with the requested information; and the form being identified by parsing the HTML code or elements of user information are matched with elements of information about the user requested in the form by using a field mapping script, as suggested by Martino into the invention disclosed by Withrow, to provide an alternative use of using the swipe card to input information.
